You're invited to attend the dedication of Wahkiakum
Community Network's Pledge
Wall 1:00 Saturday July 19th?

Last year during Bald Eagle Days, Wahkiakum Community Network gathered pledges from 136 youth and adults vowing to personally make a commitment to reduce underage drinking. The pledge focused on being a good role model, influencing peers in a positive way and obeying the law. There were individuals, groups of teens and families, community leaders, fair princesses, school administrators, and business owners. Generations of young and old signed the pledge and then painted their handprints on tiles which have been mounted into a stunning art project called the "Pledge Wall".

On Saturday, July 19th at 1:00 PM during Bald Eagles Days there will be a formal unveiling of the Pledge Wall placed on the east wall of the Cathlamet Market on Main Street. The public is invited to see the beautiful contribution to our community assembled by Ruth Doumit of Doumit Designs.
